MUMS ARE STILL POPULAR.

our city, better and more beautiful; their self sacrifice to gather sufficient means to keep our silent city in a well preserved condition, is not only deserving of liberal patronage from our people, but the highest praise and commendation from all our people—their untiring work and efforts, is one of love, and fond memories of those who have joined the ranks of the silent majority.

The stage of the theatre was neatly set to a wood scene, and here each evening Oregon's orchestra rendered a pleasing musical program, which lent additional charm to the show.

Our ever popular clothier, Charley Kooek, had a beautiful display window in honor of the mum society. Both natural and artificial mums predominated, and was a charming exhibit in colorings and harmonious setting.

Moore & Kreek, our grocers, also had a beautiful window in honor of the occasion. The window contained a profusion of real, live, home-grown mums, in varied colors, and it was a nice compliment to the society.

T. L. Price, our hardware dealer, and E. O. Phillips, druggist, also displayed mums in their show windows in honor of the occasion.

The prize winners were: Finest single collection and largest bloom, Lena Spoerle.

Finest yellow, Mrs. Anna Markland.

Finest white, Mrs. Sarah Ramsay.

Finest pink, Mrs. Elizabeth Lehmer.

Finest red, Mrs. Edna Cummins.

Charles Kooek's special premium, for best arranged collection, was won by Mrs. Anna Markland.

The Chrysanthemum show of 1911 was every way a credit to the society, and we trust this noble, loyal band of women will not grow weary in well doing. Because some of our business men do not care to honor the occasion by suitable window decorations, is no sign that our people do not appreciate the society's noble work in caring for our silent city, where sleep our dear ones.

Among the out-of-town visitors to the show, the reporter noticed Mesdames Will McRoberts, Henry Thomas, Lit Darnell, Bessie Porter, Anna Long, Misses Grace Spellman, and Marie Goldsberry, and Mr. Abe Griffith, of Mount City; H. Montgomery and wife, of Skidmore; Mrs. Jennie Belden, Horton, Kan.; Mrs. Chas. Danks, Corning; Mrs. Agnes Erdsham, and daughter, Savannah; Mrs. Lydia Tanner, Mrs. Gustav Gerber and two daughters, Mrs. Jennie Goodwin, Mrs. Emmet Taylor, of St. Joseph.

Among the many notes accompanying the transmittal of the handkerchiefs, we quote a few:

"Handkerchief, aprons, and pillows are all very well.
 But what a fellow to do in November weather, may tell.
 With his nose.
 If every handkerchief for such a poor purpose goes?"
 Stella Gustin-Cowan.

My dear Mrs. Curry:

I am in a big hurry.
 But will try to answer your card.
 And send a donation.
 Though of little creation,
 Together with my regard.

It is not very fine.
 For it is out of my line.
 As you surely by this time know.
 To make fancy things
 But it pleases me to bring
 Memories of long ago.

If it wasn't so far,
 I'd attend your bazaar.
 And give you a quarter more.
 But now as it is,
 I have too much to do.

—From Nora E. Polk-Seymour.

To the Mum Ladies.

Kind ladies, please this handkerchief take,
 It's a token of friendship and respects from Jake.
 Who very much regrets to miss the great treat
 Of seeing those chrysanthemums that can never be beat.

Now it is a fact that Jake very well knows
 That the land where the finest chrysanthemums grows,
 But he can't be there among those grand scenes,
 For Jake is in Toledo a-canning up beans.

Among the fine flowers that will be there
 Will be all the fine colors, exquisite and rare,
 The red, the yellow, the lavender and white,
 Enough to fill one's soul with pure delight.

All nicely arranged in style so grand,
 They will look so beautiful where ever you stand.
 While walking around among these grand scenes
 Just THINK ONCE of Jake a-canning the beans.

—Jake Linville.

Prior to the adjournment of the society at its meeting to wind up its affairs for the year 1911, it unanimously expressed itself as follows:

"The Oregon Chrysanthemum Society extends to Messrs. Dobyns & Curry their sincere thanks for their generosity and help in making our show a success—not only this year, but during all the sixteen years of its existence; so liberal in their publication and in every other way that would contribute to our encouragement, and we wish to be kindly remembered to both Mr. and Mrs. Curry, now that Mr. Curry is compelled to leave us for the South in quest of health, and our best wishes go with him and his estimable wife, hoping for beneficial results and a safe return to home and friends. While we are boosting our beautiful little city and its interests let us not forget to "boost" the dear, old home paper—THE SENTINEL, whose columns are ever open to us for every good work that has been undertaken in our midst—to our joys, our sorrows, wishing well all who are making good and words of encouragement to those who try. Sympathizing with the sorrowing; giving words of help to our churches, Sunday schools and our public schools. Entering our homes as it does weekly an ever welcome visitor and to the absent ones a real companion, who long for its coming, do we appreciate it, and the effort on their part in giving us such a clean, meritorious paper.

To the Oregon orchestra, composed of Mrs. F. K. Allen, Messrs. F. K. Allen, Harvey Evans, Gideon Kunkel, Asby Greene and Hanson Murray, do we feel very grateful, who so willingly and cheerfully lent such charm to our show by their excellent music every evening.

To Mr. Charles Kooek we express our sincere appreciation for the beautiful window dedicated in honor of our 1911 show, and for the special premium offered by him.

To Mr. Perry Moore we wish to express our gratitude for his liberality and helpfulness.

To the following kind and absent friends for their liberal donations of handkerchiefs do we express our heartfelt thanks:

SEINING AT BIG LAKE

Work Now on in Earnest.—Tops of Shad, Gar and Turtles Being Taken Out and Destroyed

The State commenced seining at Big Lake Saturday last, Nov. 18, the object being to remove the coarse fish, such as Buffalo, Carp, Gar and Shad. The work is under the supervision of Riley Turney, Deputy State Game and Fish Warden. They are taking out immense quantities of shad, one set often netting them several thousand pounds of these "pestiferous" infernal nuisances. The Shad, Gar and Turtles are buried in long trenches dug for this purpose. The Buffalo and Carp are sold to defray the expenses of the work.

State Game and Fish Warden, Jesse A. Tolerton, was up a few days ago, looking over the situation, preparatory to the work that is now being done, and it is safe to say that a thorough job will be the result if it does not freeze up on them.

When this work is finished the lake should be in fine condition to receive the game fish that have been promised us with which to re-stock the lake—and that this will be done there seems to be no doubt, and after this is done it will be only a short time until Big Lake will "blossom as the rose" again, and regain the prestige it has had in years gone by, for there is no question that this is one of the finest bodies of water in the state.

We are informed that one of the hauls is made right after dinner each day, so that persons desiring to go up or over to the lake can see just how it is done. Messrs. Iden and Jackson, proprietors of the resorts on the lake, deserve much credit for the efforts they have made in getting this work under way, and the determination they are evincing to make this one of the best fishing and hunting resorts in the state.

The four-act comedy, success, "The Girl and the Tramp," with Mr. J. Kane as Happy Jack, the tramp, comes to the Gem Theatre, on Monday, November 27.

A notable cast, elegant scenery and the explosion of a real automobile in full view of the audience are some of the features which make "The Girl and the Tramp" such an interesting and enjoyable performance. The highest of dramatic art is displayed in scenes that are embowered in elegant scenery and realistic stage settings. Do not confer the idea that this play is a cheap melodrama or Wild West shooting affair, for it tells the story of how a banker who has a loving wife and a happy home is brought to ruin through the manipulation of the stock market by a man who is in love with his wife. The wife and husband separate, and she is forced to move to cheaper quarters. A wagon is waiting to move Mrs. Merton's household goods into the street, because she can't pay her rent, when Flo Randall, a girl Mrs. Merton befriended and afterwards adopted, rushes in with money to pay the rent. It is an intense dramatic scene and you feel just like kissing the street urchin for her timely assistance.

The comedy is supplied by Happy Jack, the tramp, who, when hungry was fed by Mrs. Merton. She persuades him to stop drinking and be a better man. He promises to do so, and through the clever schemes of the girl and the tramp, the husband and wife are reunited, and the happy home reinstated.

Milton and Sargent Aborn, who sent to St. Joseph and Kansas City last season the big spectacular production of "The Bohemian Girl," which created such a sensation in both of these cities, will send another organization of the same size, the ABORN ENGLISH GRAND OPERA COMPANY, to the Tootle Theatre, St. Joseph, for a three-days' festival of grand opera in English, beginning Thanksgiving Day, November 30th. While the Aborn organization which visited St. Joseph last season presented but one opera, the coming company under same management gives five operas: "Madam Butterfly" at Thanksgiving matinee; "Il Trovatore" the same night; "The Tales of Hoffmann" (the first time west of Chicago) Friday night; "Martha" Saturday afternoon and "Lucia di Lammermoor" Saturday night.

Prices for all three evenings and the Thanksgiving matinee will be $1.50 and $1.00 in the Orchestra, $1.00 and 75 cents in the first balcony, 50 cents in the second balcony and 25 cents in the gallery. Saturday matinee prices in Orchestra will be $1.00 and 75 cents with balcony divisions accordingly. Mail orders will receive particular attention and should be accompanied by remittance and addressed to C. C. Philley, Manager Tootle Theatre, St. Joseph, Mo.

—The Ladies' Aid Society of the M. E. church, will have a Bake at Moore & Kreek's store, next Wednesday night, November 29th.

M. E. Church Notes.

Good congregations greeted the pastor both morning and evening. The music was especially good. The solos rendered by Dr. Prigid in the morning and that of Gerald King in the evening were deserving of mention.

It is encouraging to note the increasing interest in the Sabbath school. Every teacher was present. The success of the school depends upon you, not upon the other person. The largest thing in the life of the church today is the Sabbath school. It is the family of the church. No family circle is complete without the presence of fathers and mothers.

It was of interest to notice the increased attendance at the League service. The new officers elect, presided, Miss Nellie Graham made the topic, "Giving Christ the Right of Way," interesting, by having the subject well prepared. The topic next Sunday night is, "Methodism's Responsibility to America." Num. 14:14; a home mission subject. Mrs. Minnie Moore will lead.

The preacher's folks enjoyed a call from Rev. Frank Redinger, pastor of the Methodist church at Amazonia, Ia. Redinger has been conducting special services at the Highland church east of Oregon, which resulted in the organization of a class of 19 members. Bro. Redinger is a splendid boy and comes from a family of loyal people.
